ENTRY AND ORDER OF DETENTION PENDING TRIAL

SUMMARY

The defendant is charged in a criminal complaint issued on December 6, 2005, with possession with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of cocaine base, a Schedule II, Narcotic Controlled Substance, in violation of Title 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1) and 841(b)(1)(A)(iii). On December 7, 2005, at the initial appearance, the government filed a written motion and moved for detention pursuant to Title 18 U.S.C. §§3142(e), (f)(1)(B), (f)(1)(C), and (f)(2)(A) on the grounds that the defendant is charged with an offense for which the maximum sentence is life imprisonment, a drug trafficking offense with the maximum term of imprisonment of ten years or more is prescribed in the Controlled Substances Act, and the defendant is a serious risk of flight, if released. The detention hearing was held on December 9, 2005. The United States appeared by Barry D. Glickman, Assistant United States Attorney. Mr. Franklin appeared in person and by his retained counsel, Jeffrey W. Mendes.

At the detention hearing, the Government rested on the complaint. Counsel for the defendant called Jim Woods and D.E.A. Task Force Officer Paul Buchman as witnesses and examined them on all issues before the Court. The defendant presented no additional evidence and submitted on the issue of probable cause. Consequently, the Court found that the evidence constituted probable cause to believe that the defendant committed the crime of conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of cocaine base. The probable cause finding gave rise to the presumptions that there is no condition or combination of conditions which will reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant or the safety of the community. The defendant did not rebut either the presumption that he is a danger to the community or the presumption that he is a risk of flight and, consequently, was ordered detained.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. The defendant, Cleveland R. Franklin, Jr., is charged in a criminal complaint issued on December 6, 2005, with possession with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of cocaine base, a Schedule II, Narcotic Controlled Substance, in violation of Title 21 U.S.C. §§ 841(a)(1) and 841(b)(1)(A)(iii).

2. The penalty for possession with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of a mixture or substance containing a detectable amount of cocaine base, a Schedule II, Narcotic Controlled Substance, in violation of Title 21 U.S.C. §841(a)(1), is a mandatory minimum sentence of ten (10) years and a maximum of life imprisonment. Title 21 U.S.C. § 841(b)(1)(A)(iii).

3. The Court takes judicial notice of the criminal complaint in this cause. The Court further incorporates the evidence admitted during the detention hearing, as if set forth here.

4. The government submitted the matter on the complaint. Counsel for the defendant called Jim Woods and Task Force Officer Paul Buchman, Drug Enforcement Administration, as witnesses and examined them on all issues before the Court. Counsel for the defendant presented no additional evidence.

5. The Court finds there is probable cause for the offense the defendant is charged with in the complaint, and the rebuttable presumptions arise that the defendant is a serious risk of flight and a danger to the community. Title 18 U.S.C. § 3142(e).

6. The Court admitted a Pre-Trial Services Report (PS3) regarding Mr. Franklin on the issue of his release or detention. Mr. Franklin is age 29 (DOB 12-26-75). The PS3 indicates the following criminal history:

(A) On March 17, 1996, in Marion County, Indiana, he was convicted of Driving While Licence Suspended and was sentenced to 365 days jail with 363 days suspended.

(B) On May 22, 1996, in Marion County, Indiana, he was convicted of Carrying a Handgun Without a License Driving While Licence Suspended and was sentenced to 365 days jail with 335 days suspended. He was also placed on probation for 365 days.

(C) On March 21, 1996, in Marion County, Indiana, he was convicted of Driving While Licence Suspended and was sentenced to 365 days jail with 345 days suspended.

(D) On April 10, 1996, in Marion County, Indiana, he was convicted of Driving While Licence Suspended and was sentenced to 365 days jail with 363 days suspended.

(E) On August 26, 1999, in Marion County, Indiana, he was convicted of Dealing In Cocaine and was sentenced to 20 years imprisonment (8 years executed, 12 years suspended).

(F) On March 12, 1999, in Marion County, Indiana, he was convicted of Possession of Marijuana and was sentenced to 365 days jail with 363 days suspended.

The PS3 also indicates that the defendant has failed to appear for a previous court proceeding and that he tested positive for cocaine and marijuana upon his arrest in this case.

7. The defendant has failed to rebut the presumption that he is a serious risk of flight, and a danger to the community and any other person. Therefore, Cleveland R. Franklin, Jr., is ORDERED DETAINED.

8. When a motion for pretrial detention is made, the Court engages a two-step analysis: first, the judicial officer determines whether one of six conditions exists for considering a defendant for pretrial detention; second, after a hearing, the Court determines whether the standard for pretrial detention is met. United States v. Friedman, 837 F.2d 48, 49 (2nd Cir. 1988).

A defendant may be considered for pretrial detention in only six circumstances: when a case involves one of either four types of offenses or two types of risks. A defendant is eligible for detention upon motion by the United States in cases involving (1) a crime of violence, (2) an offense with a maximum punishment of life imprisonment or death, (3) specified drug offenses carrying a maximum term of imprisonment of ten years or more, or (4) any felony where the defendant has two or more federal convictions for the above offenses or state convictions for identical offenses, Title 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f)(1), or, upon motion by the United States or the Court sua sponte, in cases involving (5) a serious risk that the person will flee, or (6) a serious risk that the defendant will obstruct or attempt to obstruct justice, or threaten, injure, or intimidate, a prospective witness or juror. Id., §3142(f)(2); United States v. Sloan, 820 F.Supp. 1133, 1135-36 (S.D. Ind. 1993). The existence of any of these six conditions triggers the detention hearing which is a prerequisite for an order of pretrial detention. Title 18 U.S.C. §3142(e). The judicial officer determines the existence of these conditions by a preponderance of the evidence. Friedman, 837 F.2d at 49. See United States v. DeBeir, 16 F.Supp.2d 592, 595 (D. Md. 1998) (serious risk of flight); United States v. Carter, 996 F.Supp. 260, 265 (W.D. N.Y. 1998) (same). In this case, the United States moves for detention pursuant to §3142(f)(1)(B), (f)(1)(C), and (f)(2)(A) and the Court has found these bases exist.

Once it is determined that a defendant qualifies under any of the six conditions of §3142(f), the court may order a defendant detained before trial if the judicial officer finds that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the appearance of the person as required and the safety of any other person and the community. Title 18 U.S.C. §3142(e). Detention may be based on a showing of either dangerousness or risk of flight; proof of both is not required. United States v. Fortna, 769 F.2d 243, 249 (5th Cir. 1985). With respect to reasonably assuring the appearance of the defendant, the United States bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence. United States v. Portes, 786 F.2d 758, 765 (7th Cir. 1985); United States v. Himler, 797 F.2d 156, 161 (3rd Cir. 1986); United States v. Vortis, 785 F.2d 327, 328-29 (D.C. Cir.), cert. denied, 479 U.S. 841, 107 S.Ct. 148, 93 L.Ed.2d 89 (1986); Fortna, 769 F.2d at 250; United States v. Chimurenga, 760 F.2d 400, 405-06 (2nd Cir. 1985); United States v. Orta, 760 F.2d 887, 891 & n. 20 (8th Cir. 1985); United States v. Leibowitz, 652 F.Supp. 591, 596 (N.D. Ind. 1987). With respect to reasonably assuring the safety of any other person and the community, the United States bears the burden of proving its allegations by clear and convincing evidence. 18 U.S.C. § 3142(f); United States v. Salerno, 481 U.S. 739, 742, 107 S.Ct. 2095, 2099, 95 L.Ed.2d 697 (1987); Portes, 786 F.2d at 764; Orta, 760 F.2d at 891 & n. 18; Leibowitz, 652 F.Supp. at 596; United States v. Knight, 636 F.Supp. 1462, 1465

(S.D. Fla. 1986). Clear and convincing evidence is something more than a preponderance of the evidence but less than proof beyond a reasonable doubt. Addington v. Texas, 441 U.S. 418, 431-33, 99 S.Ct. 1804, 1812-13, 60 L.Ed.2d 323 (1979). The standard for pretrial detention is “reasonable assurance”; a court may not order pretrial detention because there is no condition or combination of conditions which would guarantee the defendant’s appearance or the safety of the community. Portes, 786 F.2d at 764 n. 7; Fortna, 769 F.2d at 250; Orta, 760 F.2d at 891-92.

9. A rebuttable presumption that no condition or combination of conditions will reasonably assure the defendants’ appearance or the safety of any other person and the community arises when the judicial officer finds that there is probable cause to believe that the defendant committed an offense under (1) the Controlled Substances Act, Title 21 U.S.C. §801 et seq.; the Controlled Substances Import and Export Act, Title 21 U.S.C. §951 et seq., or the Maritime Drug Law Enforcement Act, 46 U.S.C. App. §1901 et seq., for which a maximum term of imprisonment of ten years is prescribed; (2) Title 18 U.S.C. §924(c); (3) Title 18 U.S.C. §956(a); or (4) Title 18 U.S.C. §2332b. Title 18 U.S.C. §3142(e).

This presumption creates a burden of production upon a defendant, not a burden of persuasion: the defendant must produce a basis for believing that he will appear as required and will not pose a danger to the community. Although most rebuttable presumptions disappear when any evidence is presented in opposition, a §3142(e) presumption is not such a “bursting bubble”. Portes, 786 F.2d at 765; United States v. Jessup, 757 F.2d 378, 383 (1st Cir. 1985). Therefore, when a defendant has rebutted a presumption by producing some evidence contrary to it, a judge should still give weight to Congress’ finding and direction that repeat offenders involved in crimes of violence or drug trafficking, as a general rule, pose special risks of flight and dangers to the community. United States v. Dominguez, 783 F.2d 702, 707 (7th Cir. 1986) (presumption of dangerousness); United States v. Diaz, 777 F.2d 1236, 1238 (7th Cir. 1985); Jessup, 757 F.2d at 383.

The Court has found the presumptions arise in this case and have not been rebutted.

10. If Mr. Franklin had rebutted the presumptions, the Court would consider the evidence presented on the issue of release or detention weighed in accordance with the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g) and the legal standards set forth above. Among the factors considered both on the issue of flight and dangerousness to the community are the defendant's character, physical and mental condition, family ties, employment, financial resources, length of residence in the community, community ties, past conduct, history relating to drug or alcohol abuse, criminal history, and record concerning appearances at court proceedings. 18 U.S.C. § 3142(g)(3)(A). The presence of community ties and related ties have been found to have no correlation with the issue of safety of the community. United States v. Delker, 757 F.2d 1390, 1396 (3rd Cir. 1985); S.Rep. No. 98-225, 98th Cong., 1st Sess. at 24, reprinted in 1984 U.S. Code Cong. & Admin. News 3182, 3207-08.

11. In this regard, the Court finds and concludes that the evidence in this case demonstrates the following:

a. On December 1, 2005, at approximately 7:50 p.m., Indianapolis Police Department Criminal Interdiction Officer Matt Hall observed Cleveland R. Franklin, Jr., driving a gold Chevrolet Impala, westbound in the 3400 block of East 34th Street in Indianapolis. Officer Hall observed the Chevrolet Impala traveling in excess of the posted speed limit and checked the vehicle's speed by radar at 40 M.P.H. in a 30 M.P.H. zone. Officer Hall also observed Franklin fail to signal a lane change.

b. During the course of a subsequent the traffic stop, Officer Hall conducted a search of the passenger compartment of the vehicle and located a clear plastic bag in the interior driver's side fuse box. The plastic bag contained what was later analyzed and found to be 271.40 grams of a mixture or substance containing cocaine base (crack cocaine).

c. Franklin later made statements admitting ownership of the crack cocaine.

d. On December 8, 2005, law enforcement officers applied for a state search warrant and a second search of Franklin's Impala was conducted. The search revealed a Ruger 9 MM semiautomatic handgun in the fuse box near the driver's seat.

e. The evidence demonstrates a strong probability of conviction.

f. The mandatory minimum sentence of ten (10) years, when coupled with the fact the defendant has failed to appear for a prior court proceeding, substantially increases the seriousness of his risk for flight.

g. The defendant's prior felony drug conviction and possession of a firearm demonstrates the seriousness of the danger to the community this defendant represents.

The Court having weighed the evidence regarding the factors found in Title 18 U.S.C. §3142(g), and based upon the totality of evidence set forth above, concludes that even though the defendant has rebutted one of the presumptions in favor of detention, he nevertheless, should be detained, because he is a serious risk of flight and clearly and convincingly a danger to the community.

WHEREFORE, Cleveland R. Franklin, Jr., is hereby committed to the custody of the Attorney General or his designated representative for confinement in a corrections facility separate, to the extent practicable, from persons awaiting or serving sentences or being held in custody pending appeal. He shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity for private consultation with defense counsel. Upon order of this Court or on request of an attorney for the government, the person in charge of the corrections facility shall deliver the defendant to the United States Marshal for the purpose of an appearance in connection with the Court proceeding.

Dated this day of December, 2005.
